Genylenen,—In reply to your inquiry as to whother the Whiskey you are supplying to this Club is approved by the Members, the best answer I can give is that the consumption of this Whiskey in the Club has GRE VILY INCREASED since it has been supplied by your firm. There can be no doubt whatever about the Whiskey, being MOST EXCELLENT. It is Old and Soft, and I may safely say that it is much approved by the Members. Yours obediently. CAUTION. It has come to the knowledge of the Shippers of the "CARLTON" WHISKIES, that the empty Bottles have been dishenestly refilled with the poisonous trash very offen, sold in China under the name of Whiskey, this is therefore to caution consumers to Carefully Examine the Corks and Carsules to see they have not been tampered with; also that the Corks, Capsules, and Labels are branded with their Trade Mark. Hongkone, February 2nd, 1884. We have already written at some length on Mr. Colquinoun's scheme for a railway from Martaban in British Burmah through the Shan States to the frontiers of Yunnan, the practicability of which appears protty clearly demonstrated. We publish to-day an extract from Mr. Coloubour's new work, "Among the Shans," in which he gives some interestconcerning the country through which the railways would pass. From these it is appar-An Anglo-Chinese Calendar, Meantime of Sundent that there is a large population along the line of the proposed routes between Martaban or Rangoon and Kiang Teen. A description of the Festivals, Fasts, &c., thouce to Zimmé, and from that town to Raheng and Bangkok, and that the country Comparative Tables of Money, Weights, Mea. is rich in natural resources. The King of SIAM would be sure to encourage an enterprise which would be of such immense benefit to his country, and no opposition is expected from the Shaus. Mr. Colquioun does not anticipate any insurmountable engineering difficulties, and makes a rough estimate of the cost of the entire project, which he sats down at £3,288,300. He enterprise proving highly remnnerative, and China, Japan, or any of the Countries embraced bases his calculations on the results given within the scope of the CHEONICLE and by the Irrawaddi Valley Railway, from Rangoon to Prome, which runs through a coun-

Yet the Irrawaddi Valley Railway is the best paying of all Indian lines. Mesers. Colouboun, Hallett, and Scorr will, on the conclusion of the war in Tonquin, make a thorough exploration of the country, and it will then be seen how far the scheme conceived by the first named gentleman is really practicable and whether there is a fair prospect of its being remunerative. Certain it is, in our opinion at least, that a railway from Bangkok to Zimmé, vid Raheng, would accomplish wonders for the capital of Siam, as it would open up the north of the kingdom and furnish means for the rapid delivery of teak and various other products to the port of shipment, which now come down slowly and at great cost. Once place a good market within the reach of producers and production will be immensely increased, while at the same time the people will be enabled to purchase larger quantities of foreign manufactures. It is of the highest im-, portance to British manufacturers to find new markets for their ever increasing outturn of goods, and we believe that the councashire piece goods, Birmingham and Sheffield hardware, and other goods of British. The Secretary of State for the Colonies merely urges that the danger does not at present exist and he does not believe that any European Power contemplates any attempt to establish a colony in New Guines. But it is surely the crassest folly to wait for the nocessity to arise, and the Australians do well to favour of the former, the score beingbe angry and impatient with the fatuity that would neglect opportunity and act only on emergency. The descent from the Baw plateau to the Metiu stream, which joins the Hmine Lougyes River, along which the railway would be carried Salween, is easy, and the distance five and a half miles. The distance from this point to the Salween is about fifty miles, and the principal descent would have to be made in this part of the route; but, as the crest of the Baw plateau at our point of crossing was only three thousand three hundred and thirty seven feet above sea level, it could be carried in the direction of the valley without any deviations on account of the descent. Probably a considerably lower crossing of the plateau could be found at the northern or

The cost of a railway over this part of the route would not, in our opinion, be more than £15,000 a mile and the remaining portion of Valley Railways in British Burmah, or at 7,375 a mile. The total costs of the railway from the Rangoon and Maulmain (Martaban) line would be, if constructed to Kiang Tsea, which is on the banks of the Mekong River:-

THE FOREIGN TRADE OF INDIA IN 1882-3.

The trade statistics of India during the official year 1882-3 reveal some very encouraging facts, could have been conveyed that way more than 86 | with laughter," per cent. passed through the Suez Canal; while 30 per cent. of the trade of India is with China, Australia, and other countries which cannot naturally avail themselves of the Snoz Canal. One of the principal features of trade during the last five months is the revival of the wheat trade, which shows so increase in value of more than three million sterling for that short period. There had been in 1892-3 a falling off, it should be stated, of more than two and a half millions. as compared with the preceding year. Among the imports the increase in the quantity of kerosine oil from about 10 million gallons to over 21 million gallons is perhaps the most striking feature; while under liquors there is marked decline in malt beverages and wines, and an increase in spirits, owing, it is said, to the latter being now " regarded as the most suited to the Indian climate." Among the principal articles of export there was a gratifying increase to be recorded in almost all the principal articles of production such as tes, cotton, oil, seeds, and 119 pkgs. merchandise. For Honolulu-81 jute. With regard to the first-named, there was one matter, however, that cannot be considered perfectly satisfactory, and that calls for remedy before the evil has gone too far. The "tea planters, encouraged by the annually inoreasing demand, while endeavouring to turn out great attention to the selection of the leaf." That is to say, the Indian planters are going to sacrifice that excellence in preparing the tea which has hitherto enabled them to compete on more than equal terms with the produce of China, although the latter is essentially of finer quality. With Begard to the land borne trade, the most importent points are the decline of the trade through Afghanistan to Bokhara owing to the restrictive commercial policy of Russia, and the steady increase of that with Upper Burmsh, notwithstanding the unfriendly attitude of King Theebaw. The Burmese trade is one-third of the frontier trade of India, and of all the different divisions of the sea borne, or foreign trade, of the Peninsula none affords the same promise of

CHEAP SPONGES.

It is alleged (says the Lancet) that the old sponges cleaned with chloride of lime. If this be the fact, they must certainly be sources of danger by way of infection. We, however, doubt the fact. There is always a is too pure in quality to be sold at the shops, and it is hawked about the streets and disposed of at low prices. It is meanwhile, of course, always possible that old sponges may be collected and cleansed; and the public will do wisely to be on their guard against poor wares and peril at the same instant.
